N81 THE FEDERATED ENGINE DRIVERS' AND
FIREMEN'S ASSOCIATION OF AUSTRALASIA
COAST DISTRICT/NSW BRANCH

2206

Date Range: 1915-1978 (mostly from the 1950's on)

Quantity: 15 shelf metres

Note: The Coast District Branch of the FEDFA covers all of NSW except Broken Hill. Its oldest predecessors are the Newcastle Colliery Engine Drivers' Union, formed in 1889, and the Newcastle Crane Employees' Union which was affiliated to the Sydney Trades and Labour Council in 1893. Its direct predecessor is the Shore Engine Drivers' and Firemen's Union of NSW which was registered in 1901. A Commonwealth-wide federation of Engine Drivers' Unions obtained Federal registration in March 1908. The Shore Engine Drivers joined the Federation and in August 1908 its name was changed to the Coast District Branch of the Federated Engine Drivers' and Firemen's Association of Australasia. At the same time an amalgamation with the New England Engine Drivers' Association was effected at the Branch level. Several other amalgamations followed: with the Steam Crane Engine Drivers' Society of NSW (registered in 1901) in May 1910; with the Newcastle Crane Employees' Union in December 1915; and with the Newcastle Colliery Engine Drivers' Union in August 1921.

The supreme body has been variously known as the District Council, Annual Conference, Annual Council or State Council. This body met annually. Between meetings of the State Council the affairs of the union were conducted by the Central Executive, State Executive or Committee of Management. From 1960 the union had a dual identity: the FEDFA (NSW), an autonomous body registered under the industrial legislation of NSW; and the FEDFA Coast District Branch, the NSW section, excluding Broken Hill, of the Federally registered body. Since 1971 the State Council has met three times a year and the State Executive has been replaced by a management Committee. A list of the principal officers of the union can be found on page 4.

Description: Rules; minutes of State Council, State Executive, etc., and of the Power Sub-Branch and the Sydney Sub-Branch; office files of the State Secretary and of some other officers; financial and membership records; some records of the Power and Sydney Sub-Branched, and the Central Rank and File Committee; some photographs; miscellaneous arbitration material; printed matter.

The period covered by these records is basically the mid 1950's to the mid 1970's. All earlier records, apart from the minutes for 1915-1927 and the minutes from 1938, have been lost.

NOTE

This deposit was transferred to the Archives of Business and Labour from the University of New South Wales Community Research Archives in January 1985. For location purposes the description prepared at the University of NSW by Barry Howarth has been renumbered as ABL deposit N81. Some low level financial records which had been included in the original deposit were disposed of in 1987. See list for details.
