DEPOSIT No. N90

WATERSIDE WORKERS FEDERATION

PORT ADELAIDE BRANCH

1900-1983 17.33 METRES

SUMMARY: This deposit consists of the records of the Port Adelaide Branch of the Waterside Workers Federation. This Branch was previously known as the Port Adelaide Working Men's Association, whose beginnings can be traced back to a meeting held in December 1872.

The deposit includes minutes of General, Committee and Special Meetings of the Branch for the period 1920-1922, 1933-1937. There is a large collection of office files for the years 1914-1983, with the bulk covering the 1950s to 1970s period. These are arranged by subject and relate to federal maritime issues as well as local Branch activities.

Other records include Minutes of the Port Adelaide Waterside Employment Committee 1942-1946; Lists showing points designated by the Stevedoring Employers of Australia Ltd 1968-1971; Press and radio pick-up announcements 1957-1968; Death and Surgeon certificates 1938-1950; Statistical analysis of men employed on Port Adelaide Wharfs 1931-1935 and printed material 1935-1986. A large quantity of membership material is held for the years 1900-1969 and some financial records covering the period 1926-1968.

An earlier deposit, E81, containing records for years 1872-1956, is also held for this branch.
